Direct From Factory To You

The people of this county have been fooled long enough into buying stenciled pianos and paying standard prices, and since I have secured the agencies of these great Piano Manufacturers I consider that I have used good judgment and am offering the public a chance of deciding between the stenciled or cheaper grade of instruments at a great big price or straight-forward first-class instrument at a much lower price. That is my sole reason for not buying goods in St. Louis—as there are no pianos manufactured there and all that come from there are handled through the jobber or the middle-man, hence the cause of high prices and the stenciled pianos. I earnestly and honestly invite competition of both St. Francis county and St. Louis dealers. You may ask "How can you do it?" This I have previously explained, and now I ask you to inquire of the people who have already purchased and see if they are not satisfied with the "Gillam Way"—DIRECT FROM FACTORY TO HOME.

profitable meeting. Mrs. Davis, President of the State Rebeka Assembly, was present and aroused much interest among the delegates and members present. ## PROGRAM FOR LITERARY SOCIETY NOVEMBER TENTH

The regular program of the Farmington Literary Society will be given next Friday night, in the High School Auditorium, for which the following program has been announced:

Piano Solo—Miss Lelia Davis.
Reading—Miss Iva Brewer.
Vocal Solo—Miss Agnes Hallie.

Debate—The debaters to be representatives of the High School and the Ozark Business University.

Pinnolog—Miss May Cover.
Decision of Judges and Adjournment.

The program given last Friday night was thoroughly pleasing to the record-breaking crowd which was present, and by many declared to be the best program so far given by the Society. The idea appears to persist with astonishing fixity that the Farmington Literary Society has something to do with the work of the High School. In fact some of the numbers given have been sharply criticized as unsuitable for rendition "upon the High School platform."

Those connected with the enterprise and responsible for its success, while firm friends of the High School and all it represents, consented to serve in the Farmington Literary Society only because the enterprise is a municipal factor unconnected with any school, church, organization, sect, creed or clique. The accident that the programs are given at the High School Auditorium has as its basis only the fact that no other place is available in which to give this kind of entertainments—though a town like Farmington certainly should have a central assembly point of its own as many towns have. If the enterprise is to be regarded as a High School activity, then those in charge of the High School have both the ability and the material to carry on this work as a High School activity, without the help of several scores of others who are in no way connected with local education.
